There are many choices that we make each day. Most of these, however, do not require much thought or challenge. But what the Word of God says to us today is that we have a choice: Who will we serve? Will it be our society and its values or the Lord? Will we turn away because the teachings of Jesus are difficult to accept? Or will we turn in faith to the Lord?

The faith that we share can be challenging. We are called to struggle through those challenges and difficulties, with faith that the Lord is with us, to help us and enlighten us. St. Thomas Aquinas said, “It is better to limp along the way of Christ than walk briskly by some other path.” Choosing to follow the Lord is no easier today than it was in the time of the Bible. Like some of the disciples of Jesus, it may be easier to simply turn away and go home, to go back to a life that doesn’t call for sacrifice, that allows me to do whatever I want.

The gods of today -- materialism, worldly success, selfishness, treating others as objects for my own use and pleasure -- promise an easy life, a fun life. Yet this is not the way to true life; in fact, it leads to emptiness and despair. The words of Scripture, the tradition of the Church, the Body and Blood of Christ that we receive, is what leads us to life, leads us to a deeper faith, leads us to a deeper relationship with God. This relationship with Jesus is what brings us true life. Our own encounter with Christ can change us and transform us to follow the path that leads to life.

We are called to follow the example of Jesus with courage and humility, trusting in God to be with us and strengthen us. We too have a choice to make today, to seek to follow God’s way or not. What we chose yesterday is not as important as what we choose today. We can be like either of the sons in the parable. Sometimes we choose to obey our Father and sometimes we don’t. We are invited to make a choice for Christ each moment, each day. We are invited to choose to love God with all our being. We are invited to make known our choice by our actions. We make known our choice by standing up for justice for the oppressed.

The gift of God that we have received in Christ is what we are called to choose today. Two paths are set out before us: the path of life or the path of death. It is a stark choice. It is a challenging choice. The choice has consequences. Yet God gives us the grace and the strength to make the right choice. We trust in the goodness and love of God to not abandon us, to not leave us or lead us astray. Let us choose life. Let us choose to serve the Lord.

ON HOSTILITY, POETRY, AND THE FATHER'S WILL
Copyright 2017 by John B. Reynolds (john@jrwrites.com)

Several years ago I helped chaperone a bowling outing honoring the Mass servers at my home parish. Habetler Bowl is walkable from the school, so we all strolled north on Monitor, then east on Foster to the lanes and came back the same way. On the return trip, one of the front-end chaperones signaled the children to cross a side street at an intersection because no cars were coming from either direction. This intersection now has a four-way stop, but back then, the east/west side street didn’t, and a driver came along who didn’t like a line of school kids blocking his right-of-way. I tried to calm him, but content in his self-righteousness, he would have none of it. Sometimes even when you’re right, you’re wrong, you know?

This guy came to mind recently when I was driving to meet family for dinner at Russell’s in Elmwood Park. Not far from the place, southbound Cumberland splits. The right-side split continues straight south, and the left-side split goes SE to Russell’s. The cars ahead of me were perhaps going there, too, because they filled up the left-turn lane at the split before I came to it. I swung my car behind the guy ahead of me but I was still a foot or so in the straight lane. Based on the horn blasts, this caused immense displeasure to two drivers staying straight south because they needed to jog slightly to the right as they passed my vehicle. I at once had the same thought that I had had with the other guy: what must his daily life be like if this puts him so close to the edge?

And yet I catch myself now in that thought as I recall times when my own angry responses have surpassed a calmer bent. Today’s letter from Paul is poetry to me and speaks of the better way: “If there is any encouragement in Christ, any solace in love, any participation in the Spirit, any compassion and mercy, complete my joy by being of the same mind, with the same love, united in heart, thinking one thing. Do nothing out of selfishness or out of vainglory; rather, humbly regard others as more important than yourselves, each looking out not for his own interest, but also for those of others...”

The words lead into today’s Gospel with a man telling each of his two sons to go work in the vineyard. The first says no, but goes; the second says yes, but doesn’t. Jesus then asks the religious elite which of the two did their father’s will. “The first,” they answer, prompting Christ’s response, “Amen, I say to you, tax collectors and prostitutes are entering the kingdom of God before you.” Content in their self-righteousness, the chief priests and elders say they do God's will, but—in light of the Jesus message—don’t, while the tax collectors and prostitutes by their early ways say they won’t, but ultimately do. “If there is any encouragement in Christ, any solace in love, any participation in the Spirit, any compassion and mercy...” We profess the Father’s will, but surely at times we don’t live it. Paul’s poetry shows us the (Jesus) way.
Eucharistic Prayer IV is, like Eucharistic Prayer III, a fresh composition from the 1960s, based on a prayer from the tradition of the ancient church of Alexandria. It has an interesting structural feature. The new prayers all nod toward the East with the epiclesis, or calling down of the Spirit, over the gifts. In this prayer the Spirit is asked to come down again, after the consecration, to make holy the communicants who "partake of this one Bread and one Chalice that, gathered into one body by the Holy Spirit, they may truly become a living sacrifice in Christ to the praise of your glory." This beautiful phrase is well worth meditating on. What is the goal of your reception of Holy Communion today?

The preface for this Eucharistic Prayer is firmly attached to the prayer, and the directives for using the prayer anchor it to Ordinary Time. It is not intended to be an option if the Mass has a proper preface of its own, like a funeral, a Lenten weekday, or a great feast. It is not often used these days, in part because of these limitations. At first, it was suggested that this prayer was better suited to small groups of people who were well educated in scripture. This was kind of an odd stipulation, especially since its images are so beautiful and worthy of attention.

Baptism: Please contact Mary Carter (mcarte40@depaul.edu) to register for baptism preparation, which is held on the 3rd Monday of each month at 7:00 p.m. in the Parish Center. You may attend this class either before or after your child is born.

Following preparation and after your child is born, please contact Mary to schedule a baptism date. Baptisms are celebrated on the 4th Sunday of the month at 11:30 a.m., or during a regular Sunday mass. Baptism is not celebrated during the Lenten season.

Marriage: Please contact Mary Carter (mcarte40@depaul.edu) to discuss the celebration of the sacrament of marriage here at St. Vincent’s, or concerning preparation and prenuptial matters if you are getting married in another parish.

For baptized Catholics, marriage is celebrated within a Catholic church in the presence of a priest or deacon. The first item to plan is the selection of a date and time. In order to celebrate the sacrament of marriage at St. Vincent, one needs to be a registered parishioner for four months prior to discussion of a date. DePaul University faculty, staff, students, and alumni may also celebrate their wedding here, provided either the bride, groom, or both are Roman Catholic, registered at a parish and actively engaged in the practice of their faith. Weddings are celebrated on Saturdays only, at 1:00 p.m. or 3:00 p.m. Weddings are not celebrated during the season of Lent, Holy Week or Saturdays that conflict with other parish events. Mary confirms all reservations for weddings.

Confirmation: Catholic adults who would like to receive the sacrament of Confirmation are invited to contact Rebecca at rcarmic1@depaul.edu. Confirmation preparation sessions are held Sunday evenings February through May.

RCIA: Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) is a program that prepares adults to receive the sacrament(s) of Baptism, Confirmation and First Communion. Preparation sessions are held on Sundays from 11:15 a.m.-1:00 p.m. and celebration of the sacraments occurs at the Easter Vigil mass. To learn more or to enroll in the RCIA program, please contact Rebecca at rcarmic1@depaul.edu.

First Communion: Requires two years of classes. Family catechesis (classes for parents and children) religious education classes are held monthly. Please contact Rebecca at rcarmic1@depaul.edu.

Priesthood/Religious Life: Please contact Fr. Jim Osendorf, CM, by phone at 1-800-depaul-1 or by email at vocations@vincentian.org to learn more about becoming a priest or religious.
