Do you notice how we’re never satisfied? How we always search for more in our lives? As the saying goes, “the grass is always greener on the other side.” Yet even when we find what we’re looking for, often we still aren’t satisfied. It doesn’t fulfill us as we thought it would, so we look for more and continue forward. “If I only had this thing, if I only had something more, if I only could be something different — then I would be satisfied.” Yet we discover that these things do not satisfy and we continue to look for more.

Our readings today call us to recognize that God calls to us in the midst of our lives. God calls us where we are and God calls us as we are. God is there in our lives, calling to us to follow him. It is in the middle of our ordinary lives that God does this. In the first reading, Samuel, a young boy, is sleeping in the Temple. And God calls him. Yet he doesn’t understand what is going on, and God calls him four times. Then Samuel realizes that God was calling him. He responds to this call and opens himself up to God’s plan. In our Gospel, the disciples are standing with John the Baptist, just like any other day. They don’t expect anything special to happen. And Jesus walks by, and John says “Behold the Lamb of God.” And they follow him, not expecting that their lives would change forever by doing so.

Then Jesus speaks the first words that he speaks in John’s Gospel: “What are you looking for?” It is the same question that Jesus asks us. He calls to us as he did the first disciples, and he asks us what we are looking for. And deep down inside, we all are looking for peace, we all are looking for love, we all are looking for communion and acceptance and relationship with God and with others. And Jesus offers this to us. Yet we must respond to his call, we must open ourselves to hear his voice and follow him. We must seek to let go of those things that keep us from relationship with Christ, that keep us from relationship with others, those things that we hold on to that limit us and make us less than whole. We must let go of our anger, our frustrations, our bitterness and our sinfulness. But it’s not always easy to let go of the things in our lives. Sometimes we like to hold onto these things and refuse to let go.

All of us can be this way. So let us pray that we might be open and respond to God’s call. Let us seek to hear the Lord calling us by name in our daily lives, calling us to love and relationship with him and with one another.
Please Make Your Gift to the 2018 Annual Catholic Appeal

“Come, Follow Me”

Many families in our parish will be receiving the Annual Catholic Appeal request mailing from Cardinal Cupich. On behalf of those served by the ministries and services funded by the ACA, we thank you for your gifts. Please return your response as soon as possible.

The ACA offers a wonderful opportunity to answer Jesus’ call to “Come, Follow Me.”

In addition to providing for ministries and services throughout the Archdiocese, the Appeal also funds services that are of great help to ministries here at St. Vincent de Paul. For example, Appeal funds help support our many ministries, including young adults, women and married couples.

As we contemplate God’s many gifts to us, we should also reflect on our gratitude for these gifts. Your financial support for the work of our Parish, our Archdiocese, and the Church throughout the world is, in fact, one way to express this gratitude. Please give generously to the 2018 Annual Catholic Appeal.

When our parish reaches its goal of $24,021 in paid pledges, 100% of the additional funds received will be returned to us for use in our Parish.

The Biblical Humanities

Holy Ingestions: Sacrificial Bodies, Communion, and the Eucharist
Wednesday, January 17, 2018; 7:00 – 9:00 p.m.

A sacrifice and a sacrament, the Eucharist brings together faith and practice in a way that causes us to think about the manner in which a community is constituted by what its members eat and how that ingestion is made possible and understood as something more—understood as a community in communion. Emeritus Prof. of Religious Studies, James G. Hart (Indiana University) undertakes a phenomenology of the Eucharist that thinks through the distinction between God and the world; DePaul alum and Assistant Prof. of Religion and Theology, Anthony Paul Smith (La Salle University) considers the political aspects of the practice of the Eucharist, especially how it is tied to the suffering of the flesh of marginalized others; Lecturer in Anthropology, Rachel Briggs (University of North Carolina) turns our attention to other traditions that bring together sacrifice and eating, especially the Corn Mother myth in various Native American cultures; and Robert Beatty, Director of Music at the Saint Vincent de Paul Parish, leads the Saint Vincent de Paul Chamber Chorale in two live musical performances that tie together these various traditions and practices, making a case for how art as well as scholarly investigation leads to enlightenment, understanding, and satiation.

This event is free and open to the public. For more information, please contact the Parish Center.

We return to Ordinary Time on the Church calendar today. Boring. Not really, of course. It’s just that there’s been so much going on these past several weeks! We’ve been to the manger and heard the angel choirs and said hello to the magi, and maybe even had a few days off work. Now, though, it’s back to the regular, to the routine, to the...well...ordinary. Yeah, I miss the hoopla. I love the hoopla, actually. But I also welcome the day-to-day. And the readings the Church gives us today seem particularly well-suited in a day-to-day context. For today we hear stories of people who find God in unanticipated and unheralded ways. Which is probably where/how most of us find God as well.

In the first reading, for example, Samuel is sleeping in the temple (uh, I’ve dozed off once or twice in church myself...). God calls to him, sending Samuel running to his mentor Eli to say, “Here I am. You called me.” Eli denies it and directs Samuel to go back to sleep. A second time God calls Samuel and a second time Samuel rises and goes to Eli. The elder again says it wasn’t him, but this time he understands that the Lord is at hand. He tells Samuel to again go back to sleep, but he also tells him how to answer should he hear his name a third time. “Samuel, Samuel!” God calls once more, and this time Samuel responds as directed: “Speak, for your servant is listening.”

In like fashion, Andrew needs somebody to point him to the Lord, too. Enter John the Baptist in today’s Gospel. Here, John is standing with two of his disciples when Jesus walks by, prompting the Baptist to say, “Behold, the Lamb of God.” John’s two friends then follow Jesus, who asks the pair, “What are you looking for?” I’ve always found their answer odd: “Rabbi,” they say, “where are you staying?” The question and response don’t connect, you know? Anyway, the two continue to follow Jesus, and one of them, Andrew, goes looking for his brother to tell him: “We have found the Messiah.” Then Andrew takes his brother to meet Jesus directly, and Jesus tells him, “You are Simon the son of John; you will be called Cephas” aka...Peter.

Samuel and Andrew—Peter, too—are going about their regular, routine, ordinary day-to-day, but the ordinary becomes consequential, even paramount, when they encounter the Lord. And in both cases, someone more in-the-know about such things points them in God’s direction. We have our priests and deacons pointing us to the Divine, certainly, but others do the same, and often perhaps without even knowing it. Case-in-point, a friend just told me that she plans to do absolutely no work on Sundays in 2018. She told me she plans to go to a different church every week, then spend the entire day quietly, either alone or with the people she cares about. “Keep holy the Sabbath?” I asked her. “Exactly,” she said. I don’t know about you, but her example points me God-ward. And may we never ever, ever underestimate our own ability to point others to the Christ simply by living our discipleship as best we can. On our best days, after all, we’re John the Baptist and then some. Extraordinary.
News & Notes

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION

"Ordinary Time" began for us this week. On the old calendar, the feast of the Presentation, still more than two weeks away, was the last day of the Christmas season. Sadly, Bethlehem is hardly a place of peace on earth these days. The ancient Christian community has been largely uprooted by political strife. The Church of the Nativity stands (barely) in remarkable disrepair and disorder in Manger Square. The roof is crumbling, the major doorways are blocked, the wiring is faulty, and the worship life is disrupted by quarrels among Eastern Christians.

The church was founded by the Emperor Constantine in 325, destroyed in a Samaritan revolt in 539, and rebuilt by the Emperor Justinian. When the area came under Muslim control in 638, the holiness of the church was respected, and in return Christians allowed Muslims to pray in the south aisle, a right still upheld. Earlier in that century, invading Persians were ordered to destroy all churches, but when they saw the magi carved over the doorway of the Church of the Nativity, they spared it out of respect for their ancestors who bore gold, frankincense, and myrrh to the same city. The Crusaders restored and redecorated the church by the twelfth century, and it is their plan that survives. Down a few stone steps is a stone grotto with a silver star marking the place of Christ's birth: when the star was stolen in 1847 it triggered an international crisis that exploded into the Crimean War.

Since 1852, the church has been shared by the Roman Catholic, Greek Orthodox, and Armenian Churches. The Greeks are in charge of the grotto, but don't enjoy the best of friendships with the Armenians. Catholics have the care of the Chapel of the Manger, and avoid the squabbles by a separate entrance to the Franciscan monastery church of St. Catherine. Pray for peace in Bethlehem!

Celebration of the Sacraments at St. Vincent de Paul

Reconciliation: Saturday afternoon, 4:15-4:50 p.m. in the Reconciliation Room near the Sheffield entrance of the church, or you can call the Parish Center for an appointment.

Baptism: Please contact Mary Carter (mcarte40@depaul.edu) to register for baptism preparation, which is held on the 3rd Monday of each month at 7:00 p.m. in the Parish Center. You may attend this class either before or after your child is born.

Following preparation and after your child is born, please contact Mary to schedule a baptism date. Baptisms are celebrated on the 4th Sunday of the month at 11:30 a.m., or during a regular Sunday mass. Baptism is not celebrated during the Lenten season.

Marriage: Please contact Mary Carter (mcarte40@depaul.edu) to discuss the celebration of the sacrament of marriage here at St. Vincent's, or concerning preparation and prenuptial matters if you are getting married in another parish.

For baptized Catholics, marriage is celebrated within a Catholic church in the presence of a priest or deacon. The first item to plan is the selection of a date and time. In order to celebrate the sacrament of marriage at St. Vincent, one needs to be a registered parishioner for four months prior to discussion of a date. DePaul University faculty, staff, students, and alumni may also celebrate their wedding here, provided either the bride, groom, or both are Roman Catholic, registered at a parish and actively engaged in the practice of their faith. Weddings are celebrated on Saturdays only, at 1:00 p.m. or 3:00 p.m. Weddings are not celebrated during the season of Lent, Holy Week or Saturdays that conflict with other parish events. Mary confirms all reservations for weddings.

Confirmation: Catholic adults who would like to receive the sacrament of Confirmation are invited to contact Rebecca at rcarmic1@depaul.edu. Confirmation preparation sessions are held Sunday evenings February through May.

RCIA: Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) is a program that prepares adults to receive the sacrament(s) of Baptism, Confirmation and First Communion. Preparation sessions are held on Sundays from 11:15 a.m.-1:00 p.m. and celebration of the sacraments occurs at the Easter Vigil mass. To learn more or to enroll in the RCIA program, please contact Rebecca at rcarmic1@depaul.edu.

First Communion: Requires two years of classes. Family catechesis (classes for parents and children) religious education classes are held monthly. Please contact Rebecca at rcarmic1@depaul.edu.

Priesthood/Religious Life: Please contact Fr. Jim Osendorf, CM, by phone at 1-800-depaul-1 or by email at vocations@vincentian.org to learn more about becoming a priest or religious.
