“Because the scholar of the law wished to justify himself, he said to Jesus, ‘And who is my neighbor?’” (Luke 10:29)

The question that the scholar asked Jesus is a question that we too are faced with today. Various debates and discussions are occurring in our country and around the world as to what our responsibilities are towards our fellow men and women.

Pope Francis, Archbishop Cupich and the United States bishops have been very clear of the need to serve our sisters and brothers in need, whoever they are. Specifically, they have called for special care for migrants and refugees, and the need for comprehensive immigration reform. No matter what your politics may be, we are called to recognize the inherent dignity of each person.

This past week, Pope Francis said:

The weakest and most vulnerable must be helped. This is a tremendous responsibility, from which no one is exempt if we wish to fulfill the mission of salvation and liberation, in which the Lord himself has called us to cooperate. These least ones (among us) are abandoned and cheated into dying in the desert; these least ones are tortured, abused and violated in detention camps; these least ones face the waves of an unforgiving sea; these least ones are left in reception camps too long for them to be called temporary.

Sadly, the lack of just immigration reform continues to hurt these migrants and refugees. The failure of our elected officials to act is not just a political failure, but a moral one as well. This is not about Democrats and Republicans, liberals and conservatives. I believe it is not an either/or problem, but a both/and one. We can have reform that protects our borders and still treat each person with the dignity that is given to them by God.

These people are not statistics or faceless refugees. “They” are people like Oscar Martinez and his daughter Valeria who drowned in the Rio Grande a few weeks ago, and whose image of their lifeless bodies haunts us still as a tangible sign of our failures. “They” are thousands of migrant children, toddlers and infants being held in overcrowded and unsanitary facilities on our border. “They” are our neighbors and friends who work hard and ask nothing more than the opportunity to succeed. “They” are undocumented college students who only know this country as home and want a chance to get an education and work.

In the parable of the Good Samaritan that we read today, it is clear that for Christ, there is no “them” who are not helped. Each person is a child of God with a dignity that nobody can take away. Each person has a name, a mother and a story, just like you and me. Will we be like the Samaritan and come to their aid, or like the others in the story who ignore what is happening?

“Jesus asked, ‘Which of these three, in your opinion, was neighbor to the robbers’ victim?’ He answered, ‘The one who treated him with mercy.’ Jesus said to him, ‘Go and do likewise.’” (Luke 10:36-37)

Our Mission

Alleviating the devastating effects of poverty in southern Haiti

We support vulnerable children and their families by
- Ensuring children’s essential needs are met, and
- Preparing them to live independent, productive lives.

Our Project

Pwoje Espwa Sud (PES) is located in Les Cayes, Haiti where we serve families in crisis with children between the ages of 3 and 18 years. We provide safe residential homes for orphaned children who have no family, as well as temporary residence for children from vulnerable environments who will return home once the family has gained stability.

Our Programs

Family Preservation
Our program strives to keep families together with education support, counseling, and connection to local resources aimed to empower families to achieve long-term stability and success. Children develop best in caring families, families strengthen in vibrant communities, and communities secure the future through their children.

Residential Care
Each child and their family receive a unique care plan constructed by social workers and carried out by exceptional staff members. Their primary needs are all provided for: 3 healthy meals a day, safe and secure homes, education, clothing and shoes, after-school programming, and regular wellness check-ups and immunizations.

Education
On campus, we offer pre-kindergarten through Secondary 3 education with a curriculum that include Religious education.

Transition Program
Once children reach age 18, we provide support to prepare them for independent living and economic viability in Haitian society.

Life Skills and Vocational
After-school programs enable children to reach their highest potential, build confidence, and dream big.

ON SOCIAL AWARENESS, AND GOOD SAMARITANS

Copyright 2019 by John B. Reynolds (john@jrwrites.com)

Social awareness-wise, I’m clueless. OK. I’m not totally clueless, but of the four categories—Self Awareness, Self Management, Relationship Management, and Social Awareness—that I was assessed on a while back during an Emotional Intelligence Workshop my employer offered, I got my lowest score on the final entry listed. A 70. According to the scoring system, this had me at “With a little improvement, this could be a strength.” That’s good, I guess, but I netted out just one point above a 69, and that would have had me at “Something you should work on.” And my social awareness is only eleven points away from being “A Concern You Must Address.” Yikes.

I say all of this tongue-in-cheek to a great extent, probably because I’m not a big fan of self-assessment tests. Oh, I’m all for self-assessment. Self-edit. Self-appraisal. Self-critique. Call it what you want. I do it often, and I’m guessing you do, too. You know. It’s just taking a step back in a given situation and asking yourself, “What worked?” and “What didn’t work?” and “Where could I have done better?” Heck. I’ll do it again when I come to the end of the page, just as I do every week right before I hit the SEND button and another column is in the can. I self-assess my hits and misses pretty much daily in the workplace, and today’s Gospel calls me to take stock of my discipleship, too.

And I think the Emotional Intelligence Appraisal Results Report for John Reynolds can give me some help here. Per the test report, my 70 score reflects specifically my “…ability to accurately pick up on emotions in other people and get what is really going on…” Then the report gives me three specific ways to help me be more socially aware. I think I do OK with Social Awareness Strategy #1: Greet people by name, and Social Awareness Strategy #3: Catch the mood of the room, but I think I really need to hone in on Social Awareness Strategy #2: Practice the art of listening.

Enter the Good Samaritan. Now there’s a guy with social awareness! Maybe he doesn’t know the man’s name who fell victim to robbers, but he for sure catches the mood of the room. He clearly sees a guy stripped and beaten and left for dead. This isn’t the hard part, though. We could all do as much. Similarly, the priest and the Levite read the room as well. They both saw what the Samaritan sees, and precisely because they did, they both passed by on the other side of the road. The Samaritan, however, practices the art of listening that my Emotional Intelligence Appraisal Results Report says is so important. Surely he listens audibly to the beaten man when he comes upon him, but more so, the Samaritan listens with his heart, and acts accordingly. So not only is he socially aware, he is socially responsible, and therein is the teaching moment that’s as powerful today as it was when Jesus told the story millenniums ago. From clothing the naked to burying the dead, all of us would do well to practice the art of listening with our hearts, and then follow the Good Samaritan’s lead—not to mention Christ’s own directive—by going, and doing likewise.

Baptism: Please contact Mary Carter (mcarte40@depaul.edu) to register for baptism preparation, which is held on the 3rd Monday of each month at 7:00 p.m. in the Parish Center. You may attend this class either before or after your child is born.

Following preparation and after your child is born, please contact Mary to schedule a baptism date. Baptisms are celebrated on the 4th Sunday of the month at 11:30 a.m., or during a regular Sunday mass. Baptism is not celebrated during the Lenten season.

Marriage: Please contact Mary Carter (mcarte40@depaul.edu) to discuss the celebration of the sacrament of marriage here at St. Vincent’s, or concerning preparation and prenuptial matters if you are getting married in another parish.

For baptized Catholics, marriage is celebrated within a Catholic church in the presence of a priest or deacon. The first item to plan is the selection of a date and time. In order to celebrate the sacrament of marriage at St. Vincent, one needs to be a registered parishioner for four months prior to discussion of a date. DePaul University faculty, staff, students, and alumni may also celebrate their wedding here, provided either the bride, groom, or both are Roman Catholic, registered at a parish and actively engaged in the practice of their faith. Weddings are celebrated on Saturdays only, at 1:00 p.m. or 3:00 p.m. Weddings are not celebrated during the season of Lent, Holy Week or Saturdays that conflict with other parish events. Mary confirms all reservations for weddings.

Confirmation: Catholic adults who would like to receive the sacrament of Confirmation are invited to contact Rebecca at rcarmic1@depaul.edu. Confirmation preparation sessions are held Sunday evenings February through May.

RCIA: Rite of Christian Initiation of Adults (RCIA) is a program that prepares adults to receive the sacrament(s) of Baptism, Confirmation and First Communion. Preparation sessions are held on Sundays from 11:15 a.m.-1:00 p.m. and celebration of the sacraments occurs at the Easter Vigil mass. To learn more or to enroll in the RCIA program, please contact Rebecca at rcarmic1@depaul.edu.

First Communion: Requires two years of classes. Family catechesis (classes for parents and children) religious education classes are held monthly. Please contact Rebecca at rcarmic1@depaul.edu.

Priesthood/Religious Life: Please contact Fr. Jim Osendorf, CM, by phone at 1-800-depaul-1 or by email at vocations@vincentian.org to learn more about becoming a priest or religious.
